The Response Collective

The Response Collective creates innovative contemporary music.

Featuring a guitarist and producer, keyboardist/bassist and turntablist they bring together many talents to create an eclectic mix of music from ambient rock through dance to hip hop and more.

In the last two years they have recorded 2 self produced albums, toured extensively and played the Edinburgh Fringe. Working from their own studio in Oxfordshire they also compose for specific projects.

They also create innovative video and real time 3D graphics for live projects.

Sample reviews:
A wee bit Lemon Jelly, a wee bit Joy Division, the Collective throw guitars, drum machines and turntables at the wall, and what sticks is a thought-provoking, unpigeonholeable mashup.

Nowadays it is difficult to find refreshing new music, but this sure does it for me - Dr. Jean-Charles Cuillandre

Brilliant album. Saw these guys at BugJam recently they really got something different with an excellent original mix of bass, guitar and turntables.
